The Farewell Reception.

Mesdames R. F. Dorr, R. I. Nunn and Luther Miller, the officers of the Presbyterian Aid Society, entertained in the Sunday school rooms Saturday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Carrie Maxwell and Mrs. Charles Evans, who soon leave Marion for their western homes. Those present besides the guests of honor were Mesdames Joe Adams, R. W. Wilson, Sidney Dupuy, Marshall Jenkins, R. F. Dorr, Bob Nunn, Luther Miller, Henry Stone, Wm. Woodridge, Misses Lena, Ina and Sallie Woods, Emma Adams, Miss Nona Blue of St. Louis, Mrs. R. A. Rodgers, of Henderson, and Mrs. Gregg of Cincinnati. Mrs. Rodgers, Mrs. Gregg and Miss Blue gave talks telling how their societies succeeded, and giving some good ideas. Mrs. Maxwell made a talk in which she expressed herself sorry to leave the old Kentucky home, bringing tears to the eyes of all.

Delightful refreshments were served, consisting of cakes and ices. Mrs. Maxwell was the president of the society for fifteen years, and her departure from Marion is much regretted in the church and all charitable institutions. In all the years she was the leader not an unpleasant meeting or a harsh word; and 'twas with much regret she severed her connection and she assured them that in spirit and prayer she would be with them often, although far away. Songs were sung and the meeting closed, with feelings of sadness mixed with pleasure.

J. N. Dorr Dead.

Our fellow townsman R. F. Dorr was called to Princeton Saturday by the news of the death of his brother, John Nicholas Dorr, who died there Friday evening at six o'clock. Mr. Dorr's affliction was rheumatism of the heart, of which he had been a sufferer since last winter. He was 65 years of age and leaves a widow and five sons. He was a Presbyterian by faith and had been a Christian many years. The interment was in the Princeton cemetery.

Mr. Dorr was born in North Carolina and came to Kentucky before the war. He leaves three brothers, Valentine, of Claxton, Ky., Richard, of Los Angeles, Cal., Ralman, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Ann Orange, of Scottsburg, and Mrs. John McElroy, of Murray.

Mr. Dorr was a man of highest integrity and had the respect and confidence of all who knew him.

Great Ball Game.

Last Saturday afternoon the Marion Juniors drove out to Iron Hill and met the local team of that place in a match game of base ball. They expected to play Iron Hill's third team and were a little shy of the stronger aggregation which Iron Hill put up. However, Marion Juniors took courage and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the score stood 18 to 6 in favor of the Marion Juniors. The club is composed of the following all of whom attended the game to "see it well done":

Roy Hurley, Norval Chittenden, Elmer Walker, James Rankin, Dude Ramage, Clarence Walker, Durwood McNeely, Elmer Franklin, Earl Mosenbocker and Clarence Walker.

Deeds Recorded.

Gus Rutherford to E. M. Lindle, 10 acres land on Tradewater. S. Stenbridge to A. J. Stenbridge lot in Marion, $15.

Dr. J. R. Clarke to A. J. Stenbridge, 1 acre land near Marion, $125.

H. C. Glenn to Lynn & Taylor 190 acres land near Crayneville $4,250. Benjamin Bosse to John Jourdan, 1-8th interest in land, $3000.

Midsummer Ball.

Tuesday evening the young folks who delight in tripping the light fantastic hid themselves to the Crittenden Springs Hotel where the "midsummer ball" which was heralded far and wide was to take place. The weather propitious, the roads excellent and the music inspiring all of which added charm to the otherwise enjoyable occasion. Marion and all local towns were well represented.

RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

Judge Nunn Said to Have Gubernatorial Bee in His Bonnet.

The tour of Judge Thomas J. Nunn over the First district is significant in connection with the rumor that Judge Nunn may become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1907.

Judge Nunn, who is a member of the court of appeals from the First district, arrived in the city Wednesday night and to-day visited many of his friends, principally among them the lawyers of the city.

It is said by many of his friends that the jurist is contemplating entering the race for the nomination for governor.

This being the vacation from the bench at Frankfort, Judge Nunn is spending most of his time at Marion, Ky. He is now visiting the various towns and cities in the district and his visits may lead to his announcement for governor. —News Democrat.

Death Under the Wheels.

C. W. Van Hooser, a telegraph operator, was run over and killed by a train at Cedar Bluffs, Ky., some time last night. His body was discovered on the track of the Illinois Central company, near Cedar Bluffs early this morning by the railroad hands.

The body was picked up by a train and taken to his home at Claxton, Ky., where the burial took place.

Van Hooser was a boy about 18 years of age and lived at Claxton, being the son of a well known and highly respected family.

He came to Paducah Friday and asked for employment at the Illinois Central dispatcher's office but no vacancy existed and he was not given a position. —Paducah News-Democrat.

A Youthful Marriage.

Jesse Tharpe the 18 year old son of John Tharp and Miss Sallie Porter aged 16 were married at the residence of the brides grand mother, Mrs. E. H. Porter, last Sunday afternoon by Rev. T. A. Conway. The groom has been in the employ of A. J. Chittenden for some time as clerk. The bride is the grand daughter of the late Harve Porter and is an orphan, being a daughter of Thos. Porter and Jane McDowell, his wife, both of whom died several years ago, since which time the bride has made her home with her grand mother, who resides on Belleville street.

THE GREAT SCHOOLFIELD-SPEES MINE

The great Schoolfield-Spees Mining Company's power house, located near Carrsville, Ky. Their shaft is one hundred feet deep, and on one of the best veins in the district. No doubt, this mine will prove a great dividend payer to its owners.

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. J. W. Trisler and her daughter Miss Bessie Trisler, issued invitations to an "At Home," Tuesday afternoon July 25, and the large attendance and delight of the guests proved them both charming entertainers. They were assisted by Miss Lillie Doss, who received the guests at the door; Mrs. A. J. Bennet who served the chocolate; Mrs. R. I. Nunn who presided at the tea table; and Miss Sallie Woods who dispensed the punch throughout the afternoon, and Miss Kittie Moore, who assisted in serving the guests. Some of the toilets noted were Miss Agnes Watkins white silk toile-de-nord; Miss Mabel Guess, sky-blue China silk; Miss Kittie Moore, white lace, elaborately trimmed, and many other handsome costumes. Refreshments were delightful and temptingly served, and consisted of nut sandwiches, salads and pickles, hot chocolate, ice tea, ice cream and cake. Among those who attended were: Mesdames Roy Gilbert, Gus Taylor, Earnest Carnahan, T. H. Cochran, A. J. Bennett, Bob Nunn, R. W. Wilson, S. M. Jenkins, Carrie Maxwell, H. H. Sayre, D. C. Porter, A. Tinsley, Sidney Dupuy, Tom Clifton, Edgar James, J. B. Champion, A. J. Driskill, T. A. Frazer, W. O. Tucker, J. W. Wilson, A. H. Reed, R. A. Moore, W. L. Staton, R. E. Pickens, J. H. Tonkin, Wheatcroft, — Gregg, Cincinnati, O. Welford White, Helena, Ark., C. B. Anderson, Blackford.

Misses Lizzie James, Lillie Duvall, Martha Henry, Lena Woods, Ina Woods, Sallie Woods, Mabel Guess, Lillie Doss, Susie Gilbert, Agnes Watkins, Neil Cossitt, Ebba Pickens, Ida Hill, Kitty Gray, Frances Gray, Della Barnes, Kittie Moore, Rosa Kevil, Leaffa Wilborn, Ora Hodges, Jettie Nichols, Lissma n, Ky., Lily Watson, Dixon, Ky., Pearl Dunn, Wichita, Kan., Sallie Bond, Princeton, Ky., Melville Akin, Princeton, Ky., Carrie Grace Akin, Princeton, Ky.

Mrs. Roy Gilbert entertained last Thursday evening in honor of Misses Grace Moore and Lizzie Gilbert. Covers were laid for twenty-eight; but on account of the stormy weather only the following attended:

Misses Maud Gilliland, Maud Flannery, Nannie Rochester, Bernice Driskill, Clara Clopton, Nellie Sutherland, Grace Moore, Mary Coffield and Messrs. Will Watkins, Thomas Moore, Ray Flannery, Creed Taylor, Maurice Sutherland, Herbert Rodgers, Tom Cameron, Norman Henry and Gray Rochester.

A most delightful evening was spent by all. Several games and contests were indulged in. The prize was awarded to Mr. Herbert Rogers of Henderson. Refreshments were served and each guest left hoping that another such a time would soon be theirs to enjoy.

NATURE'S MAKING.

Fibrous Pith, with an Agreeable Odor, and Textile Strength on Trees.

There are in all about half a dozen lace-bark trees in the world, so-called because the inner bark yields a natural lace in ready-made sheet form which can be made up in serviceable articles of apparel. Only four of these curious species of trees are of much practical value. Tourists who have stopped at Hawaii or Samoa may recall the lace-bark clothing of the natives—clothing of a neat brown color when new, of remarkable strength and of a fragrant odor, like freshly cured tobacco leaf. The native "taga" cloth, as it is called, is made of the bark of Brunsonetia papirifera, but is not usually included among the real lace-barks trees.

Of the lace-bark trees yielding a pure, snowy lace of utility, we have on the Pacific side of the hemisphere the sterquilifer acerifolia of Australia (also called "flame tree," in allusion to its snowy red flower), and in Maoriland the plagianthus betulinus. On the Atlantic side there is only one lace-yielding tree so far known—the lagoterialia of the Caribbean islands. Of the dafne tenuifolia of South America I have never been able to discover a single specimen, despite careful search, nor have I ever met anyone who has seen the tree growing in South America.

In its natural state the lace-bark is of a most delicate cream-white tint. It is probably a kind of fibrous pith. When the outer bark is removed, it can be unfolded and unwound in one seamless piece, having a surface of a little more than a square yard. Washing and bleaching gives it a dazzling white appearance. It has a faint, agreeable odor not unlike that of freshly split bamboo.

Virgil Carlton left Sunday morning for Marion, Ky., where he has accepted a position on the Crittenden Press. We are glad to hear of his selection and believe that he will do himself credit in his new field. —Chrisney (Ind.) Sun.

Mr. Carlton takes the place made vacant by Jasper Riggins who is now owner of the Marion news agency.

In honor of Miss Nellie Gray, of Salem, Miss Verna Pickens entertained Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. J. Hayward issued at home cards for Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 11:30 to meet Misses Pratt Spalding, of Morganfield, and Lillian Graves, of Dyconsburg.

The flavor is half the battle. The purity is the other half. My sorghum is pure and has a flavor that is delicious. — FRANK CONGER.

Developed Zinc Mine For Sale

This no prospect but the real thing with the ore sticking out of the ground—true fissure vein and inexhaustible.

Seven or eight different parties own stock in this mine and no one of them will give it the attention that it requires and deserves. The order is given to sell and settle partnership.

Their Loss is Your Gain

Mine is situated in the highest mineralized spot in the Western Kentucky Mining District.

Eighteen acres—one shaft 63 feet deep; one shaft 45 feet deep, boiler, engine, steam hoist, steam drill, mining tools, about ready now for pump, about 400 tons of ore on the dump, carbonate of zinc, lead and jack, locations for other shafts in good stuff.

By putting in concentrator the mine is now in shape to pay good dividends.

Price of whole outfit $17,500, without the mineral rights $12,500.

60 acres, one mile from Hodge mine, fluor spar proposition.

70 acres, one-half mile from Riley mine, (same vein) lead proposition.

90 acres, 1 1/2 miles from Columbia mine, zinc proposition.

This 220 acres mineral rights (in fee) and the developed 18 acres are ample assets for a $100,000,00 company and will pay dividends on that amount from the start.
